

(9-month, Tenure-Track)

Positions: Assistant Professor of Law

Preferred Subjects: Criminal Law, Property Law, Real Estate Law, Contracts, Business Organizations, Commercial Law (and other transactional law), Civil Rights Law.

Posted: July 18, 2024

Samford University's Cumberland School of Law invites individuals interested in serving in a Christian university environment to apply for a tenure-track professor of law position. The tenure-track faculty position is a nine-month appointment that will begin in August 2025 at the rank of Assistant Professor.

Required qualifications include outstanding academic credentials, including a J.D. from an ABA-accredited law school or equivalent degree and demonstrated experience in a relevant subject matter.

Applicants with demonstrated expertise in criminal law, property law, real estate law, business organizations, contracts, commercial law (and other areas of transactional law), and civil rights law are especially encouraged to apply.

Preference will be given to candidates with teaching experience (or significant and relevant experience in private practice, government, or public service) and a demonstrated publication record and research agenda.

Cumberland School of Law prides itself on its commitment to teaching and to ensuring not only the success of its students upon graduation but their recognition of the ethical obligations that flow from being an officer of the court and a servant of the community. The ideal candidate will thus demonstrate the ability and motivation to develop meaningful mentoring relationships with students both in and out of class.
