Assistant/Associate Professor, Interior Design

(9-month, tenure track)

November 2, 2024

Revised: To extend application deadline from January 31, 2025 to April 30, 2025.

Samford University's School of the Arts, Department of Architecture & Interior Design invites individuals interested in serving in a Christian university environment to apply for the Assistant/Associate Professor of Interior Design position, beginning Fall 2025. This tenure-track full-time faculty position is a 9-month appointment.

Position Responsibilities

Responsibilities include:

- teaching undergraduate studio and lecture courses
- working with the department chair and faculty team to maintain CIDA-accredited status
- productively engaging in research and/or creative scholarship with output in publications and/or exhibitions of work
- participating in curriculum development, accreditation, and marketing of undergraduate programs
- providing service to the department, college, and university
- and active involvement with industry and/or relevant professional associations/organizations

Qualifications

Qualified candidates will possess a master's degree in interior design or a related field from an accredited university (or equivalent). Preference may be given to candidates with NCIDQ certification, at least one degree in interior design, and/or significant professional experience in the field of interior design. Academic rank and salary are dependent upon academic qualifications, professional experience, and previous academic teaching experiences.

Other desired qualifications include:

- previous teaching experience in higher education
- professional practice experience
- experience with and competency in relevant industry-standard software (e.g., Revit, AutoCAD, Adobe products)
- a record of scholarly/creative accomplishment appropriate to the discipline
- LEED AP, WELL AP, or other relevant certification(s)
- and registration or licensure

About Samford University

Samford University (samford.edu) is a leading nationally ranked Christian University. Founded in 1841, Samford is the 87th oldest institution in the U.S. and the largest privately supported and fully accredited institution for higher learning in Alabama. Located in the Birmingham, Alabama, suburb of Homewood, with 425 full-time faculty and more than 6,100 students representing 49 states and 16 countries, Samford is ranked #2 in the nation for student character development and #8 in the nation for the quality of career preparation provided to students as listed in The Wall Street Journal (2025). The University is dedicated to the promotion of rigorous academic inquiry in a Christian setting. The University seeks and prefers employee applicants of the Christian faith and offers competitive salaries with a generous benefits package. Samford University and the School of the Arts embrace diversity in their faculty, students, and staff and encourage applications from those who would add to the diversity of our academic community.

The School of the Arts is a community of creative professionals working together in music, theatre and dance, visual arts, graphic design, gaming and animation, architecture, and interior design. The Department of Architecture & Interior Design seeks to promote an atmosphere of interdisciplinary collaboration. First year students complete a core curriculum in the arts. Students in years 2-4 study in an interdisciplinary environment that embodies the spirit of integrated design practice. The department is currently comprised of seven full-time faculty members and offers a BFA in Interior Design and an accelerated 5-year Master of Architecture degree. The BFA in Interior Design degree program is accredited by the Council for Interior Design Accreditation, and the Master of Architecture, whose initial cohort was accepted Fall 2021, is in candidacy for NAAB accreditation.
